

Dewulf is a 'Trends Gazelle' for the 5th time

10 April 2015 by Dewulf

Dewulf, specialist in harvesting technology of potatoes and carrots, was selected as one of the 'Trends Gazellen 2015'. Thanks to a sensible expansion of export and innovation policy, the company continues with its strong growth figures. The selection is entirely due to the continuing and growing trust of our customers, our employees and our stakeholders.

Dewulf continues to become stronger in the list of top 100 of big companies in West Flanders, Belgium. Stimulated by the rising export (up to 80% of the turnover) and an innovation policy, Dewulf enjoyed a strong growth. Thanks to the acquisition of Miedema, the Dewulf-range of potato and vegetable machines has further strengthened the company, and the group is now one of the undisputed global leaders in this segment of the agricultural machinery manufacturing market. Dewulf and Miedema are able to provide a complete product range for the modern-day potato and vegetable growers around the world and the future growth guaranteed despite the cyclical movements of the vegetable prices as we know for 2015.

Dewulf had a strong year in 2014 which was also confirmed by the winning of the prestigious 'Roeselare-Award' for the best company of the year.

With the concept 'Trends Gazellen', the Belgian financial and economical weekly papers, Trends and Trends-Tendances yearly want to promote the mutual cross-fertilization between fast growing companies and creating an optimal climate for self-employed entrepreneurship.

Dewulf would like to thank everyone who has made this possible.

Source: Dewulf