

Sanitization for all Argo Tractors plants

14 April 2020 by ARGO Tractors S.p.A.

Argo Tractors get ready to restart activities, as soon as the critical phase of the coronavirus emergency has passed. The multinational of Fabbri (RE) has recently completed the sanitization process of the production lines and offices in all the group's plants.

"In these days we have adopted the protocol measures for contrasting and reducing the spread of the virus in our workplaces and we have sanitized the spaces of our companies - specified Antonio Salvaterra, Argo Tractors Marketing Director -. We want to guarantee to all employees and suppliers the peace of mind to work in a safe environment. It is our main commitment to put health first. Argo Tractors has taken the field to do its part in this world health emergency situation"

In consideration of the strategic role of agriculture, Argo Tractors has always assured the supply of spare parts for tractors and the technical and commercial support via e-mail and telephone to its customers and partners. "We still have no indication of when it will be possible to start again 100% - continues Salvaterra - it will probably be a step by step process and in any case when all conditions will allow it. Waiting for that moment, Argo Tractors is taking all the necessary measures to guarantee safety and to protect health"
