Un beau Bell transport

18 March 2025 by Van der Vlist

- Van der Vlist successfully transported a Bell machine from Le Havre, navigating through major cities.
- The transport was facilitated by the company's extensive network of offices and diverse fleet of trucks and trailers.
- Constant communication between Dutch and French offices ensured smooth and safe delivery.
- The experienced team at Van der Vlist played a crucial role in the successful transport operation.

With every transport, our enthusiastic drivers tend to make pictures. This beauty of a transport couldn't not be shared!

By making use of our network of offices, our grand diversity of trucks and trailers and our highly experienced team, Van der Vlist is able to transport all kinds of loads smooth and safe.

This transport from Le Havre had to pass some big cities, but by constant communication between our Dutch and French offices, our driver was able to deliver this beau Bell to its destination.
