

Canada: Ammann is growing and growing

19 July 2011 by Ammann

Ammann is the fastest-growing brand in Canada's compaction market. Ammann maintains a first-class, comprehensive network of selected dealers at more than 25 locations and is headquartered in Toronto, the country's largest city. Today, Ammann has the most comprehensive product range in the sector for walk-behind compactors as well as a large selection of rollers for soil and asphalt compaction – ideal for landscape architects, real estate maintenance, municipality administrations or construction companies specialising in infrastructure, highway construction or housing developments.

25 dealerships and 500,000 spare parts

Canadian construction companies and dealers are able to procure spare parts and services from local sources. The storage facility in Edmonton, Alberta, holds more than 500,000 spare parts and employs a computerised inventory system to handle order processing and stock level management. Investments in the Canadian market will support the advancement of Canadian dealers and their customers in a contemporary and professional manner.
